DJOKOVIC QUALIFIES FOR 2021 NITTO ATP FINALS

TURIN: Novak Djokovic has become the first singles player to qualify for the 2021 Nitto ATP Finals, to be held at the Pala Alpitour in Turin from 14-21 November, after the Serbian captured a record-equalling 20th Grand Slam title over Matteo Berrettini on Sunday at The Championships, Wimbledon.

The World No. 1 secured his 14th qualification for the season finale by winning his third straight major crown of 2021 to draw level with all-time leaders Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal. In Turin, Djokovic will be attempting to win the season finale for a sixth time, which would see him equal Federer's record at the elite event.

"I am happy to have qualified for Turin so early," said Djokovic. "Italian fans are very much into tennis so I am sure it will be a great event with a fantastic atmosphere."

Andrea Gaudenzi, ATP Chairman, said: "Novak's results this season have been nothing short of extraordinary. The Nitto ATP Finals is reserved for the best and qualifying for a 14th time reflects the excellence he brings, year after year. We look forward to witnessing him continue to chase history in Turin."

Angelo Binaghi, President of the Italian Tennis Federation, said: "We are delighted to have the certainty so far in advance that the World No. 1 will play in Turin in the first Italian edition of the Nitto ATP Finals. Djokovic is not only a great champion, who always ensure a great show, but he is also an idol of the Italian public. Of course, I sincerely hope that our Matteo Berrettini will also qualify for Turin, so that he can have the opportunity to have the rematch of Wimbledon with Novak."

The 34-year-old Djokovic has competed at the Nitto ATP Finals between 2007-2016 and 2018-2020. He lifted the trophy in 2008, when the event was held in Shanghai, then over four consecutive years between 2012 and 2015 in London. Djokovic, who did not qualify in 2017 after suffering a right elbow injury, has compiled a 38-16 record at the prestigious tournament.

Djokovic is on course to finish 2021 as year-end No. 1 in the FedEx ATP Rankings for a record-breaking seventh time — eclipsing Pete Sampras (1993-1998) — after a historic season, which includes winning the first three Grand Slam championships of the year, in addition to winning the Belgrade Open title (d. Molcan) in May. He has won 34 of 37 matches this year and on 8 March, Djokovic moved past Federer with 311 weeks at World No. 1. To-date, he has sat at the summit of men's professional tennis for 329 weeks.

Djokovic is the fifth man in the sport's history to win the first three majors of the year, following in the footsteps of Jack Crawford (1933), Don Budge (1938), Lew Hoad (1956) and Rod Laver (1962 and 1969). Budge and Laver (twice) went on to complete the calendar-year Grand Slam.

Stefanos Tsitsipas, the 2019 Nitto ATP Finals champion, is next in line to qualify in second position in the FedEx ATP Race To Turin, followed by Italian favourite Berrettini. Andrey Rublev, former winners Alexander Zverev (2018) and Daniil Medvedev (2020), Rafael Nadal and Jannik Sinner, the 2019 Next Gen ATP Finals titlist in Milan, all feature in the Top 12 with four months to go in the regular ATP Tour season.

About the Nitto ATP Finals

The Nitto ATP Finals is the year-end climax to the men's professional tennis season, featuring only the world's best eight qualified singles players and doubles teams as they battle it out for the last title of the season. Players compete for FedEx ATP Rankings points throughout the season in a bid to earn one of the eight coveted berths and a chance to win the biggest indoor tennis tournament in the world. Played using a round-robin format, each player plays three matches as they compete for a berth in the knockout semifinals and beyond. The prestigious tournament has been contested in major cities around the world with a rich history dating back to the birth of The Masters in 1970 in Tokyo. Since 2000 the event has taken place in cities such as Lisbon, Sydney, and Shanghai. In 2009 the tournament was moved to London, where it was played through to 2020 before moving to Turin in 2021.
